

Does the NCSCT offer 'open' training courses?

As a small organisation, we are currently unable to deliver 'open' virtual training courses for individuals to sign-up to. We currently only run commissioned training courses for stop smoking services or other organisations for between 12 and 20 participants. However, our online training courses are free and available to all, including the practitioner training course, by signing up through the NCSCT e-learning portal.